Majlis

Immerse yourself in our Majlis-themed restaurant, where the essence of communal dining takes center stage. Rooted in cultural traditions, a Majlis often involves communal floor seating, emphasizing respect for both the food and the people sharing it. This intimate setting fosters a sense of togetherness, as individuals gather around a large shared plate.

The act of sitting on the floor symbolizes humility and equality, creating an environment where everyone is on the same level, enhancing the shared experience of enjoying a meal. It's a cultural practice that not only honors the food being served but also encourages meaningful connections among those partaking in the communal feast.

About us

In the heart of Arabic culture, each meal begins with a heartfelt wish for deliciousness, health, and prosperity – sentiments we embody in every plate of Mandi at our restaurant.

Our journey commences in the ancient heart of Hadramaut, Yemen, where Mandi's secrets were first unveiled. This culinary treasure, rooted in tradition, quickly captivated the world, traveling from the Gulf to distant shores.

Mandi, a dish known for its luscious, dew-kissed tenderness, derives its name from the Arabic word "Nada," meaning "dew." It's more than just a dish; it's a symbol of unity through shared meals, a bridge to our culture, and a testament to our love for tradition. It's a representation of togetherness, like a blend of all the countries in the Middle East, which we fondly refer to as "Khaleej," meaning "Gulf."

Our Mandi magic unfolds in the oven, where rice and tender meats slow-cook to perfection, absorbing aromatic spices and creating a symphony of flavors. We traveled across the world to bring this sense of unity, this blend of Middle Eastern cultures, to the UK.

"Welcome to our world of Mandi, where we craft diverse flavours, tradition and togetherness of the Khaleej in perfect harmony."

KABSA

Our Kabsa cooked with Long Basmati rice along with tomatoes and arabic spices adds a distinct texture and fragrance to the dish. The long grains remain separate and fluffy, providing a delicate contrast to the spiced meat. The aromatic nature of Basmati rice enhances the overall experience of Kabsa, a traditional Middle Eastern dish with a flavorful blend of spices.

MADHBI

Madhbi rice, is a flavorful blend of long-grain Basmati rice prepared with aromatic spices like saffron and cardamom. Enjoyed in Yemen and the Arabian Peninsula, this rice complements the main dish, which involves grilling or roasting meat—often lamb or chicken—with a rich mix of spices. The result is once again a fragrant and flavorful rice that harmonizes with the smoky and spiced notes of the grilled meat, creating an Arabian experience for food lovers around the world.
